

Cumberland Advisors Week in Review (April 1, 2019 – April 5, 2019)

Dogma! As traders and investors, dogma is something we always have to fight against. Dogma is the enemy of traders and investors. Group-think and thinking you know the answer to an outcome that is in the future is a quick way to the poor-house. One of the things we like to do here at Cumberland Advisors is try to understand the other side of our trades as well as our own trades. We share thoughts on the noise around the inversion of the yield curve. Does it mean recession? And is it 12, 18, 24, 36 months out? What does automatic thinking tell us and should we follow it? Don't forget about our event on April 11, 2019, Financial Markets and the Economy – Financial Literacy Day III.

Read the full Week in Review here.