

Why the Fed Is In a Pickle

Why the Fed Is In a Pickle

Excerpt from Barron's – Aug. 2, 2019

To be considered for this section, material, with the author's name and address, should be sent to MarketWatch@barrons.com.

CUMBERLAND
ADVISORS®
www.cumber.com

In The News

A portrait of a man with glasses, wearing a dark suit, light blue shirt, and dark tie, smiling against a blue background.

Boeing Woes Ding GDP

Cumberland Advisors Market Commentary
by Cumberland Advisors

July 30: This quarter's gross-domestic-product number contained a couple of interesting twists. Only two categories accounted for positive growth—consumer spending and government spending. The consumer number is especially interesting since it accounted for 2.9 percentage points of growth, while government spending added 0.9 percentage points....Finally, there is a wild card in trying to figure out how much of an impact the problems with the Boeing MAX 737 may have on both domestic production and international trade. We know that the Saudis have cancelled a 50-plane order, and there have been related cuts in parts and components, as well. Mike Englund of Action Economics estimates that Boeing's impact took about 0.2 percentage point off GDP growth in the second quarter, and without the MAX problem, export growth would have been -3.2 instead of -5.2%, and equipment growth would have been 2.7% instead of only 0.7%.

—Robert Eisenbeis

Read the full article with subscription at:
<https://www.barrons.com/articles/why-the-fed-is-in-a-pickle-51564790400>

Links to other websites or electronic media controlled or offered by Third-Parties (non-affiliates of Cumberland Advisors) are provided only as a reference and courtesy to our users. Cumberland Advisors has no control over such websites, does not recommend or endorse any opinions, ideas, products, information, or content of such sites, and makes no warranties as to the accuracy, completeness, reliability or suitability of their content. Cumberland Advisors hereby disclaims liability for any information, materials, products or services posted or offered at any of the Third-Party websites. The Third-Party may have a privacy and/or security policy different from that of Cumberland Advisors. Therefore, please refer to the specific privacy and security policies of the Third-Party when accessing their websites.

Sign up for our FREE Cumberland Market Commentaries

Cumberland Advisors Market Commentaries offer insights and analysis on upcoming, important economic issues that potentially impact global financial markets. Our team shares their thinking on global economic developments, market news and other factors that often influence investment opportunities and strategies.