Event Detail:

The Economic Outlook

Two of the country's leading research economists will share their thoughts on the economic outlook. David Altig, Executive Vice President and Director of Research at the Federal Reserve Bank of Atlanta, will review the performance of the US economy in 2014, discuss the outlook for 2015 and make some remarks on what it all might mean for the future course of Fed policy.

We will also hear from Mine Yucel, Senior Vice President and Director of Research at the Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas, regarding the energy environment. Yucel will discuss how the shale revolution and increased oil and gas production in the U.S. has changed the global energy picture. What does increased U.S. production mean for energy markets, energy prices and U.S. energy independence? Is it a brave new world?
